EXPRESSION OF WISH FORM

As usual we take this opportunity to remind Active and Deferred members about the importance of having a completed and up to date Expression of Wish Form.

You can complete an Expression of Wish form online through our Pension Web Portal or you can download a form from the Fund website.

Please fill out an Expression of Wish form today to make sure we know who you'd want to receive any lump sum if you died.

Download a form from www.tflpensionfund.co.uk or visit the Pension Web Portal <https://pensions.tfl.gov.uk>

ADDITIONAL VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS (AVCs)

Many members pay AVCs through the Fund's AVC plan, it is important that you keep your AVCs under review, making sure the funds in which you have invested remain appropriate for you and if you have chosen to pay AVCs through the lifestyle option that your target retirement age reflects your current plans for retirement.

Our Guide to AVC Investment Options provides you with details of the 'self select' funds available and the lifestyle option. In addition we provide Fund Fact Sheets for each of the self select funds available, these are updated every month.

If you wish to change your investment choice or your target retirement age if you have chosen the lifestyle option, you can do this online through Legal & General's "Manage Your Account" website, or by contacting Legal & General by telephone on 0345 070 8686 or email to employerdedicatedteam@landg.com

PENSION COMMENCEMENT LUMP SUMS

On retirement members can take a tax free cash sum of up to 25% of the value of their benefits subject to a maximum of £268,275. Where a member's benefits are such that 25% exceeds £268,275, the Trustees have agreed that a Pensions Commencement Excess Lump Sum can be paid. This allows members to take their pension in excess of the maximum tax free limit as a taxable lump sum. We are working to update our Pension Web Portal to reflect this change.

PENSIONS DASHBOARD

The Government will be launching a pensions dashboard, this will allow you to search all of your pension benefits in one place. All pension schemes are required to provide data to the pensions dashboard.

The Pension Fund has already connected to the Dashboards ecosystem ahead of its 31 May 2025 deadline, and we now await the six month formal 'go live' notice from the regulator.

In preparation for this, we have been validating the data we hold as it is important for our data to be accurate. To support this, we encourage you to ensure we are kept up to date with any changes to your details, in particular if you move address. If we lose contact with you, we may not be able to trace you when your benefits become due. For those already receiving a pension from us, if you move and fail to notify us we may have to suspend payment of your pension until you contact us.

You can update your address via our Pension Web Portal, by telephoning us or by writing to us; for current employees we receive address updates from HR, so if you move please ensure that your SAP record is updated.

GMP EQUALISATION

Firstly what is a GMP?

Your Guaranteed Minimum Pension (GMP) is part of your pension from the Scheme. It replaces part of the State Pension.

Before April 2016, the State Pension was made up of two parts: the flat-rate Basic State Pension, and a second level of State Pension linked to earnings. This was called the State Second Pension (or 'S2P'), and before that, the State Earnings Related Pension Scheme (or 'SERPS').

From 6 April 1978, pension schemes could 'contract out' of SERPS. This meant that both employers and employees would pay lower National Insurance contributions, and the pension scheme had to provide a certain level of benefit in place of the SERPS pension the employee would be giving up.

For pension schemes like ours, this minimum level is the GMP. The amount of GMP and the way it must be increased in payment is set by legislation.

People stopped building up GMPs from 6 April 1997.

What is GMP Equalisation?

For workplace pension schemes that were contracted out of SERPS (and later the State Second Pension), GMPs remain unequal in some cases.

GMP equalisation is the action all such pension schemes must take to adjust pensions for the effect of unequal GMPs. This is only required in respect of GMPs built up from 17 May 1990.

In the past, State Pensions were paid to men and women at different ages (65 for men and 60 for women), but were gradually equalised so that by November 2018, men and women had the same State Pension age.

However, GMPs are still payable from age 65 for men and age 60 for women. Also, men and women could build up GMPs at different rates.

In 1990, the European Court of Justice ruled that all UK pension schemes had to treat pensions equally for men and women for benefits built up after 17 May 1990, including the same pension age.

But the rules governing GMPs were set in legislation and as State Pension ages were still different, GMPs did not adjust in line with this ruling. As a result, GMPs remained unequal in some cases.

Following a High Court ruling in October 2018, UK workplace pension schemes must now put this right by adjusting pensions for any unequal GMPs included in the pension.

What is the Fund doing about this?

The Fund is currently reviewing all records to ensure that the GMP data held is accurate, which is done through a reconciliation with HMRC. Once complete, work will be undertaken to identify any records where the GMP needs to be corrected. The work will be undertaken to identify members for whom GMP needs to be equalised, however this is a complex process involving the Scheme Actuary and will take some time. Once complete, affected members will be contacted.

THE IMPORTANCE OF TAKING ADVICE

Pensions are a complex area with members having decisions to make at various stages throughout their time as a member. In addition members have to take into account the tax implications of any decisions they are making.

While the Pension Fund Office provide members with information they cannot provide members with advice, so for this reason we recommend that members seek appropriate independent financial advice when making important decisions about their pension. Some of the key decisions where you should consider taking appropriate independent financial advice are:

- ◆ Whether to transfer benefits into the Fund
- ◆ Whether to transfer benefits out of the Fund
- ◆ Whether or not to choose the late retirement option
- ◆ What option to choose when you retire
- ◆ Whether to pay AVCs or not

TAX LEGISLATION

The tax legislation impacts pensions: Members receive tax relief on their contributions and have the option to take part of their benefits on retirement as a tax free cash sum.

The Annual Allowance limits the amount you may save towards your pension while receiving tax relief. The Annual Allowance is £60,000 but for those with higher incomes (over £200,000 this allowance is reduced and depending on the level of income can be reduced to £10,000). For Annual Allowance purposes the change in the amount of TfL pension you have built up over the tax year after allowing for inflation is multiplied by 16, plus any AVCs you have paid are added to that value.

In addition there is also the Money Purchase Annual Allowance, this applies if you have flexibly accessed defined contribution benefits. If this applies to you, your future defined contribution savings are capped at £10,000 a year, so you need to consider carefully and take appropriate independent financial advice before flexibly accessing any defined contribution savings you may have.

If your pension savings exceed the Annual Allowance the excess may be subject to tax, so it is important to take advice when making additional pension savings to ensure that you are fully aware of the implications.

TRANSFERRING IN BENEFITS

This is an important decision as once made the decision cannot be reversed. Many members look to transfer their benefits from a former employer's pension scheme or from a personal pension arrangement. In return for the payment of a transfer value the TfL Pension Fund offers a service credit; the credit is based on various factors and takes into account assumptions about future investment returns and salary growth. While a service credit may offer some degree of certainty, members should look very carefully at the option and compare the pension they are giving up with the pension being offered by the TfL Pension Fund. Different pension schemes value benefits in different ways depending on the type of scheme and also the scheme's assumptions; for this reason it does not always follow that proceeding with a transfer is in the member's interests.

You should seek appropriate independent advice when looking at a transfer as factors such as your overall financial situation and your longer terms plans for retirement also need to be taken into account.

TRANSFERRING BENEFITS OUT

This is the opposite of transferring benefits into the Fund; you need to compare the benefits you are giving up with the benefits that you will receive on transfer. While some arrangements may offer more flexibility in the timing and method of drawing your pension, this flexibility needs to be balanced against the certainty you are giving up. For this reason legislation requires members transferring from a defined benefit pension scheme such as the TfL Pension Fund to a defined contribution arrangement to have sought appropriate independent advice from an FCA registered advisor and we cannot pay a transfer without having received evidence that members have received such advice.

ADDITIONAL VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS (AVCs)

Members have the option to pay AVCs, this is a way to save more towards your retirement and may give you flexibility as to when you can retire. As your decision to pay AVCs and your AVC investment decisions may have significant financial implications, you should consider obtaining appropriate independent financial advice if you are in any doubt about whether to make AVCs or the approach to investment that may be appropriate to you.

LATE RETIREMENT OPTION

Existing Members at age 60 and age 65, and New Members at age 65 who are still contributing members of the Fund, have the option to stop paying contributions to the Fund and instead receive a late retirement increase to the pension they have built up. You need to carefully consider whether the option to stop paying contribution is better for you, this will depend on how much pension you have already built up as well as your longer term plans for retirement. Again if you are not sure which is the best option for you, you should seek appropriate independent financial advice.

RETIREMENT OPTIONS

When you reach retirement, you will have various options depending on your age, these may include

- ◆ the option to take a tax free cash sum with a lower ongoing pension
- ◆ the option to have a higher pension until State Pension Age with a lower pension from State Pension Age

These options have an impact on your long term pension income as well as an impact on limits for the Lump Sum allowance, Pension Input, and Annual Allowance. So again, if you are not sure which is the best option for you, you should seek appropriate independent financial advice.

THE FUND'S NEW CHIEF EXECUTIVE & FUND SECRETARY

After 21 years of dedicated service across two periods at Transport for London, Stephen Field will retire on 29 May 2026.

For the past 18 years, Stephen has led the TfL Pension Fund, playing a pivotal role in its growth, governance, and reputation. When he rejoined in 2008, the Fund held just over £4bn in assets; today it exceeds £15bn. Under his leadership, the Fund has become one of the UK's largest and most respected defined benefit schemes, earning numerous awards and the admiration of colleagues and industry peers. Stephen's insight, integrity, and collaborative approach will be greatly missed, and we thank him sincerely for his exceptional contribution.

Following a competitive recruitment process, I am pleased to announce that Martin Hunter has been appointed Director of Pensions & Chief Executive of the TfL Pension Fund. He brings more than 20 years of senior pensions experience, including roles as Head of Integrated Funding at Railpen, Partner at Punter Southall (now XPS Pensions Group), and most recently strategic adviser to the Pension Protection Fund. His strong track record in strategy, leadership, and stakeholder engagement makes him an excellent fit for the role.

Martin joined TfL in March, ensuring a smooth transition of responsibilities.

SUSTAINABILITY

The Trustees of the Tfl Pension Fund have published their Annual Report on Sustainable Investing for 2025. This report provides a summary of our activities to date and how this forms part of a long term strategy.

The Trustees take a holistic view in aligning their Sustainable Investing Beliefs towards the Fund’s investment activities. There is a clear recognition that each of the three factors: Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) play an important role in driving the long-term value of the Fund’s investment portfolio.

The Trustees believe that as a long-term provider of responsible capital, the Fund should be an agent of positive change, engaging with the companies to help them adopt a transition to best business practices and sustainable business models.

We hope you will gain a greater understanding of the Trustees’ approach from this report and learn more about some of the Fund’s investment activities.

Three versions including a new interactive version of the report are available on the Fund website

PLANNED CHANGES TO PENSIONS AND INHERITANCE TAX

The government has proposed changes to the tax rules that apply to benefits payable from pension schemes after a member dies. The changes are expected to take effect from 6 April 2027. We have set out a high-level summary of the changes that have been announced below.

Currently, pension scheme death benefits do not generally form part of an individual’s estate for inheritance tax (IHT) purposes and are paid free of IHT. However, under the proposed changes, such benefits may no longer be exempt from IHT.

Under the current proposals, spouses’ and dependants’ pensions payable from defined benefit schemes (like the Fund), as well as death in service lump sums, are expected to remain exempt from IHT. However, most other lump sum death benefits are expected to form part of a deceased member’s estate for IHT purposes.

The new law introducing these changes has not yet been passed and may be subject to change. We continue to monitor developments in this area.

PENSION PAYMENTS FOR THE 2026/27 TAX YEAR

For the 2026/27 tax year you will be paid on 14 pensioner paydays, which is unusual and happens only once every 23–25 years. Because of this extra payment, some pensioners may receive a letter from HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) regarding their tax position.

Although you don't need to do anything now, it's important to understand what may happen at the end of the tax year.

The additional fourteenth payday (known as week 56 payroll) means your annual personal tax allowance will have been used up by week 52 (the thirteenth payday). However, HMRC instruct us to apply the allowance for the full 56 weeks. As a result, the total tax-free pay you receive may end up being greater than your personal allowance.

At the end of the tax year, HMRC will review the overall amount of tax due. If tax has been underpaid, they will issue a P800 form, which details how it calculated the underpayment. To recover the underpayment of tax, HMRC will normally reduce a pensioner's tax code in the following tax year (2027/2028).

As this is not a common occurrence, there are still some unknowns as to how HMRC will respond. However, we're trying to gain more clarity from HMRC and we'll keep you updated with any further details we receive.

The expectation is you won't need to do anything. HMRC will adjust your tax code so we can ensure any underpayment is paid in 2027/2028. HMRC will send you a letter to explain this.

TfL PENSION CONSULTATIVE COUNCIL

The PCC discusses any issues relating to the operation of the TfL Pension Fund (but not individual entitlements). PCC members are elected from three sections representing pensioners and deferred pensioners, employees of London Underground and TfL employees other than LU. The PCC has a role in nominating Trustees to the Pension Fund to represent these groups. The PCC constitution is on the Fund's website at www.tflpensionfund.co.uk/about-tfl-pension-fund/pcc

Election results 2025

The longest serving quarter of the TfL Pension Consultative Council (PCC) retired from office on the 30 November 2025. The term of office for the new appointments commenced on the 1 December 2025 and will end on the 30 November 2029.

In Section One (representing pensioners and deferred pensioners) Luke Howard and Alexandra Barnes' terms ended. Both stood for re-election. Three nominations were received and, following a postal ballot, Tim Handley was newly appointed and Alexandra re-elected.

In Section Two (representing TfL and its subsidiaries or contractors, excluding London Underground Limited) two nominations were received for the vacant position and, following a postal ballot, Etienne Ramsay was elected.

In Section Three (representing London Underground Limited and its subsidiaries), Khadija McBain and Yetunde Adekola's terms ended. Khadija stood for re-election. As one other nomination was received, Khadija and Christopher De Larrabeiti were elected.

For more information about the PCC you can visit the TfL Pension Fund website at www.tflpensionfund.co.uk or contact Qudsiyyah Tahir, PCC Secretary on 020 7126 1298 or email qudsiyyah@tflpensionfund.co.uk

OTHER FUND MATTERS

Ill-health pensions in payment

If you are in receipt of an ill-health pension, the Fund requires you to tell us if the total of your current earnings (if any) when added to your pension exceeds the greater of 150 per cent of your current pension or £48,100. This latter figure is increased annually by earnings inflation.

Ill Health Retirement

We have published a Guide to ill health retirement explainer video which goes through the ill health process for contributing members, this can be found on the Fund website using the below link: www.tflpensionfund.co.uk/active-member/ill-health-retirement

The key things to note are:

- ◆ If there is a likelihood that you may leave due to ill health, you should make an application for an ill health pension allowing at least two months for the medical evidence to be collated and considered
- ◆ Members can submit their own ill health retirement application
- ◆ Making an application does not change the attendance at work process
- ◆ Being granted an ill health pension does not bring the attendance at work process to an earlier conclusion

Pensioner payments

A number of our pensioners change account and it is important to remember there can be a delay in your change notification being received by the Fund office, so whether you use the current account switch service where the banks notify us or you make the switch independently, please do not close your old account until you have received confirmation from the Fund Office that we have received and actioned your change request, this will avoid payments being returned to us and the consequent delay in reissuing the payment to you.

CONTACTING THE FUND OFFICE

The staff in the Fund Office will be pleased to answer any queries you may have. They cannot give financial advice or deal with tax matters but will be able to advise you who to contact for the assistance you need.

If you are telephoning, our call handling service is open from 9am to 5pm Monday to Friday. Please have your member number and national insurance number to hand when you call.
